

ICAS FOUNDATION APPLICATION FORM & GUIDELINES 2021

Applications to join the ICAS Foundation are open to potential undergraduates who wish to study accounting or finance related degrees. We aim to support academically talented young people from family backgrounds with limited resources, who wish to attend university but may not have the means to do so without additional financial support. Applicants to join the ICAS Foundation should be eligible for support from the Student Awards Agency for Scotland (SAAS), Student Finance England or Student Finance Wales.

The ICAS Foundation programme includes bursary funding and mentoring support:

- Bursaries are awarded to eligible students up to a maximum value of £2,500 per annum (at the discretion of the ICAS Foundation Trustees). This funding is intended to assist students with the costs of studying at university such as accommodation, study materials, travel and living costs. While the bursary awards can also be used to support your personal development with experience or qualifications, the bursary should not be used to support day to day living expenses of other family members.
- Mentoring support is provided by a qualified Chartered Accountant, who has volunteered to assist a student with impartial guidance and the benefit of their experience. This is a structured, one to-one relationship that focuses on the needs of the student and is designed to support and encourage them to develop their potential in line with their career aspirations.

ELIGIBILITY

Applicants should have a total parental, guardian or household annual income under £34,000. This includes any employment income, self-employment income, pension income and return on investments. Applicants will be required to provide evidence that they meet the income criteria before the outcome of their application is confirmed.

Throughout the ICAS Foundation programme, students are required to:

- Demonstrate their academic ability and remain on track to achieve first class honours or upper second class honours at graduation
- Stay in regular contact with the Foundation, complete progress reports and provide exam results
- Actively participate in the ICAS Foundation mentoring programme

Additional Information

Please answer all of these questions as far as possible. Generally, the ICAS Foundation will not accept applications from students in receipt of additional funding from a similar trust or scholarship provider. (This does not include SAAS bursary or loan support – we encourage students to apply for their SAAS bursary and any other available support as soon as it is possible for them to do so.) Where you have applied for additional funding, please let us know as your application will still be considered by the ICAS Foundation pending confirmation of any other support.

Personal Statement

Please complete the personal statement in no more than 1,000 words (we generally expect you to include around 850-1,000 words). The personal statement should be used to inform the ICAS Foundation why you are applying for a bursary and provide us with a good understanding of your background. There is no wrong or right way to complete the personal statement, but we do suggest the areas highlighted on the application form are covered.

We consider all applications in context, so we encourage applicants to provide as much detail as possible about their circumstances. This ensures that all relevant information is available to the Trustees when making their decision.

SELECTION AND CONFIRMATION OF BURSARY AWARD

Applications will be reviewed by the ICAS Foundation Trustees and other advisors that they may consider appropriate. At this stage, Foundation programme applicants who have been put forward will be asked to provide more detailed information about their financial circumstances. Applicants who are eligible and approved in principal will be invited to attend a final stage informal interview, where their application will be discussed in more detail before funding is confirmed. The ICAS Foundation aims to inform applicants of the result of their application within 6 weeks of the closing date for applications, provided all relevant information is submitted.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

- Applications will only be accepted from eligible students intending to study an undergraduate course in Scotland or an approved partner university in England where one or more of accounting or finance are the dominant areas of study.
- ICAS Foundation bursaries are generally paid in two instalments - October and February.
- Students on the ICAS Foundation programme are required to take part in the ICAS Foundation mentoring scheme. If the student leaves the mentoring scheme without the permission of the ICAS Foundation Trustees then future bursary payments may cease.
- Students join the ICAS Foundation programme for the duration of their undergraduate course, and receive bursary and mentoring support throughout that time. Students are required to meet the conditions of the programme, including maintaining a high academic standard – you will be required to forward copies of your exam results each semester, which must show you are on track for a 2:1 honours degree classification as a minimum.
